

Chris Brigham, MD, is a renowned expert in the medicolegal domain, leveraging more than five decades of experience to harness the power of information technologies to provide exceptional virtual learning experiences and improve the quality and efficiency of professional services.

His involvement in artificial intelligence and computer-assisted instruction started five decades ago while he was at the Laboratory of Computer Sciences at the Massachusetts General Hospital. He earned his Medical Degree from Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, has a Master of Medical Science from Rutgers Medical School, and holds a Certificate in Human Resources Management.

Chris is Board Certified in Occupational Medicine (ABPM) and is a Fellow of the American College of Occupational Environmental Medicine and the International Academy of Independent Medical Evaluators. His prolific academic contributions include over 300 peer-reviewed publications and several books. He is Senior Contributing Editor for the AMA Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment, Sixth Edition, and Editor of the AMA Guides Newsletter and Casebook. He founded eMedicoLegal, providing high-quality learning experiences, and hosts several websites focusing on medicolegal issues.

Besides his professional life, Dr. Brigham is a Stephens Minister and co-founding member of the Faith-Based Claims Association. A resident of Hilton Head Island with his wife, he also spends summers in Maine, cultivating his passion for the ocean as a licensed United States Coast Guard captain. His professional ambition extends beyond his immediate work, aspiring to enable everyone to lead joyful, productive, and faithful lives.
